I Have A Dream® Foundation of Boulder County Celebrates 10th Anniversary at 3rd Annual Dream-Maker Luncheon

Clair Beckmann to receive Dream-maker Award

This year, the I Have a Dream® Foundation of Boulder County marks its 10th anniversary of service to low-income youth in Boulder County. On Tuesday, June 6th, 2000 at the Regal Harvest House Hotel, the Foundation will hold its 3rd Annual Dream-Maker Luncheon to celebrate its 10th anniversary and the graduation of the Lafayette "Dreamers." It will also honor community leader Clair Beckmann, Senior Vice President of BankOne with the Dream-Maker award. The Luncheon begins at 11:30 a.m. Individual tickets are $45, and corporate tables are $1,000. Kitty deKieffer and Denis and Judy Nock are co-chairs for the event.

"It is a remarkable accomplishment that the Foundation now serves 187 low-income youth in our community, and has plans to adopt another class in Longmont within the next year," states Board President, Ron Jung.

The Foundation works with Dreamers for at least eight years from elementary school through high school, and then provides them with a post-secondary educational scholarship upon graduation. The Foundation's goal is to help each student stay in school, and develop the tools to achieve their academic and vocational dreams.

Celebration is an important part of the service the Foundation provides to its Dreamers and members of the community who support the organization.

"Many of these students have had few opportunities to be recognized for their accomplishments," notes Executive Director Lori Canova. "We believe it is important to call attention to how hard the Dreamers have worked to graduate from high school and to celebrate their individual futures."

"The 10th anniversary is particularly important because the Foundation continues to grow at an exciting pace," adds Canova.

The Foundation now has four Dreamer classes. Each Dreamer Class is sponsored by an individual, family or group, which provides the financial support necessary to sustain academic and intervention services as well as providing money for scholarships. Community leaders continue to step forward to sponsor new classes, believing that the program is an excellent investment of their resources.

"We heard about the I Have a Dream® Foundation when it first began back in Harlem over 14 years ago," say Bob and Diane Greenlee. "We knew there were children here in Boulder County who could benefit from the program as well, and we were honored to become sponsors of the Boulder Class."

Bruce Holland and Dianne Ladd, sponsors of the Lafayette Dreamers who will graduate this June, frequently recount success stories of the students they encouraged over an eight-year period.

"These kids will always be important to us," comments Diane Ladd. "We will continue to celebrate their successes as they go forward in life."

Midge Korczak became the sponsor of the third class of Kalmia Dreamers in 1996 and states, "The rewards of being a class sponsor are tremendous. Sure, it is a very big commitment of financial resources as well as time, but I have the incredible benefit of knowing that college will be possible for these kids."

Linda Shoemaker and Steve Brett are the most recent sponsors who in October 1999, adopted the Broadway Dreamers who live in low-incoming housing sites in Boulder.

Clair Beckmann, recipient of the 2000 Dream-Maker award, is a long-time supporter of organizations such as the I Have a Dream® Foundation of Boulder County. Senior Vice President of BankOne in Boulder, Ms. Beckmann will be recognized by the Foundation for her remarkable investment of time and energy into programs that make a difference for youth in the community.

*Dream-maker Award Honoree,
Clair Beckmann*

"Clair certainly personifies our vision of a dream-maker," says Luncheon co-chair Kitty deKieffer. "She has made improving the lives of children in Boulder County a very high priority in her life."

As we celebrate the 10th anniversary of the Foundation and the graduation of the Lafayette Class, we look to the future with anticipation and hope. The I Have a Dream® Foundation of Boulder County will continue to grow, and will continue to provide important services to low-income youth throughout the community. Because of the dedication of so many sponsors, volunteers, staff and donors - all of them dream-makers - I Have a Dream will continue to bring a brighter future to children in Boulder County.

Welcome Rick Blauvelt - IHAD's Director of Administration

Rick Blauvelt

I will be working on a variety of projects including financial management, fundraising, human resources, and monitoring of the scholarship process. My business background - primarily in hotel management - includes 6 years with Marriott Corp. In 1997, I completed my Master of Social Science degree at CU, then worked for Denver's Urban Peak youth shelter where I developed and facilitated education and employment assistance programs for homeless teens. More recently, I managed the start up of Asia Transpacific Foundation, a local Boulder foundation providing charitable support for projects in Southeast Asia. My Colorado lifestyle includes lots of skiing, hiking, backpacking, running, biking, and phone chats with my wonderful daughter - a freshman at the University of New Hampshire. I am very passionate about the importance of equal opportunity for all children and believe this must begin with a quality education and the involvement of caring adults. I am honored and delighted to have the opportunity to contribute to IHAD as Director of Administration.

Community Leaders Join Board of Directors

Ron Jung Elected Board President

The I Have a Dream® Foundation of Boulder County's Board of Directors elected its slate of officers for the year 2000 and approved five new members. The officers are Ron Jung, President; Kim Felton, Vice President; Sam Appleby, Treasurer; and Kaye Howe, Secretary.

In addition, the Foundation added five new members to the Board of Directors. The new Board members are:

Tim Jones, Vice President of the Louis and Harold Price Foundation. A Lafayette resident, Tim brings to the board over 15 years of comprehensive experience in nonprofit financial management, tax and legal matters, and investments. Most recently he was Senior Vice President & Treasurer for the University of Colorado Foundation. "I hope to have an impact on building the financial base of the organization," says Jones.

John Marcil, attorney at law, Faegre and Benson. John brings legal, financial and other business experience to the board. John states, "My belief that the education of our young, and the availability of educational opportunities to all children, are critical to the well-being of our society and will make me a strong advocate for IHAD's cause." John provided Pro Bono legal representation of HOPE in connection with The HOPE Columbine Atrium and Library Project.

Ofelia Miramontes, Associate Vice Chancellor, Diversity and Equity; Associate Professor of Education, University of Colorado, Boulder. Ofelia brings a perspective

Tim Jones

Ofelia Miramontes

from years of experience in education, working with children/families of color and second language learners. Ofelia helps coordinate the activities for IHAD on the CU-Boulder campus and is looking forward to continuing her work to serve underresourced communities through IHAD.

Amy Mueller, Intergovernmental Relations Coordinator, City of Boulder. Amy brings an extensive background in communications, project management and government public policy issues to the IHAD board. Most recently she served as the Legislative Director to Governor Roy Romer. "I have extensive contacts throughout the state and I will work to promote IHAD not only in the immediate region, but statewide to garner as much support as possible for the organization," states Mueller.

Nanette Schunk, Marketing Director, Boulder/Strategic Solutions Marketing. Nanette brings a wealth of marketing experience to the board. She is looking forward to utilizing her marketing background to help create ideas to implement in the IHAD program.

"We are very excited to have these extremely talented and respected members of our community serve on our board," says Lori Canova, the Foundation's Executive Director. "Their expertise and energy will be a valuable asset to the organization."

Karen's in the Country to Host Graduation Event for Lafayette Dreamers

The Lafayette Dreamers, comprised of 79 high school seniors, are our largest class of Dreamers. To celebrate their graduation this spring, Karen's in the Country in Louisville will host a party on the evening of Sunday, May 21. Karen's has generously agreed to provide services at a significant discount. Each Dreamer will receive a special graduation gift, and several will receive awards to honor special achievements. Invitations with the RSVP date will soon be mailed to the Dreamers and their families.

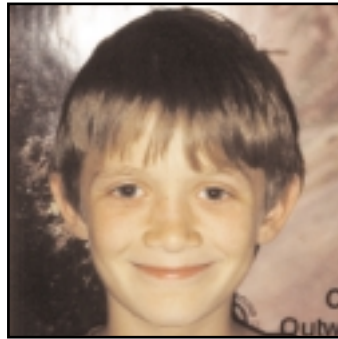

Karen's in the Country has also agreed to be an underwriter for the Dream Maker Luncheon, June 6th. Dreamers will again be honored at this annual event and are encouraged to attend.

New After-School Center Opens at Broadway

On February 21st the Broadway Community Center opened at the Broadway Public Housing Site, 3114 Broadway, #1, just south of the North Boulder Recreation Center. The direct phone number is 720-564-0819. This new center will house IHAD's second after-school center in addition to offices for Francisco Mejias, Broadway Project Coordinator and AmeriCorps staff. The Center is a converted three-bedroom apartment located next to the playground. The IHAD after-school center is open for tutoring and homework help on Mondays, Tuesdays, Thursdays and Fridays from 3:00 - 6:00 p.m. On Wednesdays the Parks and Recreation Dept. will offer recreational activities to Dreamers. This new site is walking distance for Dreamers who live at the Broadway and Iris/Hawthorne sites. Broadway residents were invited to tour the new facility at an open house on March 23rd. A grand opening celebration will take place for the public on June 2nd. The Center will also be used for parent meetings, community meetings, City of Boulder Housing Authority meetings and City of Boulder Parks and Recreation activities. It's already clear that this new center will be an important resource for the whole community for years to come. IHAD wants to give special thanks to Betsey Martens and Joyce Dickinson from the City of Boulder Housing Authority for securing this much-needed new space for IHAD.

Girl's Club

Since January, numerous Kalmia Dreamers have spent every Thursday afternoon talking about girl's issues with Louise Alderson, a local licensed marriage and family therapist. Louise has donated her time in order to make this club for middle school and high school girls very meaningful. Each session is focused around a topic relevant to a teenage girl's life. For example, one session discussed the difference between being assertive versus being aggressive. Louise makes her sessions very interactive and hands on. IHAD purchased self-esteem books for each Dreamer to use in conjunction with the class.

Summer 2000

Summer 2000 is going to be awesome! We have 10 weeks of non-stop activities planned. The summer program runs June 12th - August 18th.

June 12 - 24: Sporting Chance will facilitate a sport camp. Each day, CU athletes will teach the fundamentals of a designated sport - volleyball, golf, soccer, softball, basketball, weightlifting, and swimming. At the end of the week, Dreamers will travel to Loveland to try fly-fishing (sponsored by the JJJ Foundation).

June 26 - July 7: The Boulder Public Library will facilitate a literacy program focused on reading and poetry. One example - Reading to End Racism - will include reading aloud, plays, and music from various cultures.

July 10 - 14: The City of Boulder Parks and Recreation Dept. will plan an exciting week of fun recreational activities.

July 17 - July 28: Dottie Oatman, a local art teacher will provide instruction for projects in clay, metal, and painting, as well as guidance for field trips to local art studios. Program funding provided by Target.

July 31 - August 4: The City of Boulder Parks and Recreation Dept. will run recreation programs.

August 7 - 11: Computer classes will be offered with a trip to Six Flags for those Dreamers who complete the class.

August 13 - 17: The summer program will close with the trip of a lifetime to the Mountain Trails Youth Ranch in Monte Vista, Colorado. Dreamers age 10 and above will stay in cabins and experience low and high ropes courses, rock climbing, horseback riding and more as they begin to set goals for the upcoming school year.

Internships

June 19 - August 11: For the older Dreamers (14 and above), there are paid internships available at the University of Colorado, June 19th - August 11th. Dreamers will have the opportunity to work with a CU department and gain valuable work experience.

The Colorado Youth Program

Multiple dates available in June, July and August. These are 10-day mountain summer camp sessions for youth 11 and above.

Dreamers must register for the above activities. For information, please call your Project Coordinator.

Adopt a Family Program 1999

The Adopt a Family program was a great success this year, providing gifts for 77 Dreamers and their families. With the support of 10 University of Colorado-Boulder departments and many individual sponsors from the Boulder County community, Dreamer families had a happy holiday season. Dreamers also received wonderful gifts from the giving tree at Wal-Mart in Lafayette and from the Mental Health Association of Colorado. Lafayette Dreamer families received their gifts at a Holiday party at La Familia in Lafayette. Broadway and Kalmia Dreamers received their gifts at local community parties. At these events, everyone shared in conversation, gift giving, and the holiday spirit. All had a wonderful time. There was even an appearance by Santa Claus! The Adopt a Family program is one of the I Have a Dream® Foundation's most popular programs. The staff and all the IHAD families are grateful to those sponsors who helped to make this holiday season a bright one.

Thank you!

Oscar Castilleja is a sixth grader at Sojourner Middle School in the Broadway Class. Oscar is an "A" student. He has been actively involved with the water-shed project, a study of local streams and rivers. Oscar is a certified pH Temperature Technician. Oscar spent his spring break in Canyonlands, Utah on a field experience with other students from Sojourner. Oscar was on the planning committee that met with parents to plan this trip. Oscar wants to become a lawyer. Keep up the great work!

Oscar Castilleja

Sara Weigel, a Lafayette Dreamer is starting to count the days until June 3rd. And why is Sara so anxious for June 3rd? Why, the Centaurus High School graduation of course! Sara will be one of over 20 Dreamers walking across the stage with 400 other graduates at Centaurus High School. Sara Weigel is looking forward to graduation and to summer so she can relax! She is a busy young woman who sings in both the Show Choir and the Girls Choir at Centaurus. Sara also has two jobs and is working hard to make plans for next year. Sara is a hostess at the Blue Parrot restaurant in Louisville and also works as a cashier at Hugh M. Woods. After she takes vacations to Virginia and California, Sara is planning on attending Front Range Community College where she wants to study Early Childhood Education.

New features on the IHAD website have improved donation opportunities and communication with volunteers:

Anyone can make donations from their bank and credit accounts on the IHAD website, www.ihadboulder.org. Tickets can also be purchased for the 3rd Annual Dream Maker Award Luncheon. A grant from US Bank has made this service possible by creating a secure form to protect the financial information of the donors through DonorNet.

You can also support IHAD through a customizable internet "start-up page." Just go to www.kickstart.com and click through to "support an organization." Fifty percent of all banner ad and search engine revenues come to the I Have a Dream Foundation. This start-up page has all the services you need - weather, news, stock quotes, search engine access - and you'll be supporting IHAD every time you go online.

There are also new features to help volunteers stay in contact with IHAD staff. Tutors and mentors can now complete forms on the website to track their interactions with Dreamers, and the information is emailed to IHAD staff. With so many volunteers meeting Dreamers off-site, this service will help volunteers document every meeting and session. Tutors and mentors can click on "Contact Us" from the home page to access these forms.

Friday Afternoon Club (FAC)

What is going on at the Kalmia Community Center on Fridays? Since September, Heather Solar, AmeriCorps Promise Fellow, has been facilitating educational enrichment activities for Dreamers on Friday afternoons. The Friday Afternoon Club has been a tremendous success. Some of the past activities have included learning new educational computer games, painting the local Kalmia bus stop, and making gifts for volunteer mentors and tutors.

Future activities include a fiesta on Cinco de Mayo, animal appreciation day, clay art and environmental days. A list of monthly activities is posted at the Kalmia Community Center. The club is open to any and all Dreamers. Please stop by and join us!

College Camp for IHAD Dreamers

This past November, Lafayette Dreamers took another step towards preparing for college. On Friday, November 19th and Saturday the 20th, twenty-six Lafayette students participated in College Camp at the University of Colorado-Boulder. College Camp was a success this year through the coordinated efforts of IHAD, the University of Colorado, Rocky Mountain Association of College Admissions Counselors, and National Association of College Admissions Counselors.

Workshops were held in the evening on Friday and all day on Saturday. The students focused on the completion of college applications, as well as essay writing workshops utilizing computers under the guidance of CU and IHAD staff members. On Saturday, there were additional application and essay writing workshops, as well as a student panel on College Life which included the involvement of parents, a workshop on Issues for First-Generation College students, and an interactive session on Financial Aid. This was an excellent opportunity for the Dreamers to begin the college application process with the assistance of admissions experts. We wish the Dreamers the best of luck as they make plans for next year!

“Newspapers in Education” Program Assists Dreamers

Every morning, the Daily Camera drops off a stack of newspapers at both our Broadway and Kalmia Community Centers. The papers are provided at no cost to IHAD thanks to the Daily Camera's Newspapers In Education program. Each afternoon, when our Dreamers come by for tutoring and a healthy snack, numerous copies of the paper are available as a valuable educational tool. A favorite of Dreamers is the weekly "Mini Page", an interactive news and activity section designed specifically for young children. Each day, Dreamers of all ages are encouraged by their tutors to read at least one article of interest. Most Dreamers will confess that this is actually fun! In addition, the Newspapers In Education program provides IHAD with a host of curriculum guidance materials to assist our tutors. These materials will be an integral part of our summer literacy program. For more information about the Newspapers in Education Program, contact Christine Labozan at labozanc@thedailycamera.com.

From all of us at IHAD, thanks to the Daily Camera for their support!

Farewell Aneda

IHAD gives a fond farewell to Aneda Montoya, Kalmia Project Coordinator. "Due to my father's failing health, I have decided to stay home and take care of him. This was a very hard decision for me because IHAD is a great program and I was very proud to be a part of it. I had a lot of dreams for the Dreamers and their parents and I know that with time all their dreams will come true". Aneda Montoya. IHAD wishes Aneda and her father the best.

About those Dreamers

Mario and Gabriel Granillo have both earned a place on Casey Middle School's second quarter Honor Roll.

Jasmin Pando has improved in most of her classes from the last report card. She is actively attending tutoring at IHAD and received many nice remarks from her teachers at Washington Bilingual School.

Jose Fraire has been very helpful around the Kalmia Community Center. He shovels in front of the center every time it snows.

Roberto Vasquez has really improved his reading skills according to his teachers at Washington Bilingual School. Roberto has a tutor who helps him with his homework and his reading and comprehension skills.

Rory Vaden and Angela Bellis both received full tuition scholarships for college, and are still deciding where to attend next year.

Mikaela Ladwig-Williams was accepted to the University of Puget Sound, a competitive school in Tacoma, Washington.

Adrian Cottmeyer received his GED certificate and received such high scores on the five test sections that he is eligible for a scholarship to Front Range Community College.

Lafayette Dreamers are receiving college acceptance letters and are in the process of making plans for next year.

Spring Break

Spring Break was packed full of various activities, reading clubs, poetry, laser tag, and don't forget, pizza! Six Kalmia Dreamers worked as "Peer Leaders" to supervise and facilitate activities and reading clubs for the younger Broadway Dreamers. The Kalmia Dreamers took their leadership positions seriously and were great role models for the younger Dreamers.

We spent one morning touring the Celestial Seasonings Tea plant. The Dreamers decided that the Peppermint room was their favorite. On another day, we learned how to write poetry from some Latino poets. Our Dreamers had a chance to read their poetry in front of a crowd. On another occasion, we toured the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration. We all learned that the sun is 93 million miles away from the earth. And if we wanted to fly to the sun, it would take 11 years for us to get there. On the last day of spring break we played laser tag and ate pizza with some teenagers from the Longmont Community Center. Spring Break was wonderful and everybody cannot wait for the summer!
